

As soon as he left the polling place Patrolman Leachman, who was assigned to the booth, went to the address given and inquired if Williams lived there. The house is owned by Della Harris, and she told the officer that she did not know of a negro named Williams.

Patrolman Leachman then set out to find Williams and soon discovered him at First and Green streets. Seeing the officer in pursuit, the negro began to run but was soon captured and sent to jail. In the jail Williams at first said that he was from Cincinnati and later returned to his old story that he had been in Louisville for three years, and had been working at a restaurant on West Jefferson street. He admitted that he had been "steered" into the polling place by a "friend" named "Charlie" and a friend of "Charlie's" named "Steve." He stated that he had been living on West Walnut street since coming to Louisville but could not give the number.

THE OPTION SEEMS GENERAL THAT THE NEXT BATTLE OF A DECISIVE NATURE WILL OCCUR AT THE PASS. LIEUT. GEN. STOESEL REPORTS THAT THE JAPANESE LOSSES IN THE ATTACKS ON PORT ARTHUR FROM SEPTEMBER 10 TO 22 WERE 10,000 MEN. HE ADDS THAT THE JAPANESE ARE NOW WORKING ACTIVELY AND APPROACHING BY INTRENCHMENTS AND A TUNNEL. THE SUCCESS OF THE RUSSIAN RESISTANCE AT PORT ARTHUR IS BELIEVED IN OYAMA'S FAILURE TO ATTACK KUROPATKIN.

LONDON, OCT. 5.—A news company here late to-night sent out a dispatch dated Tokyo, October 5, saying: "It is reported that the Russian squadron made a sortie from Port Arthur to-day, and that a great naval battle occurred."

No details are given.

Harbin, Oct. 2.—[Delayed in transmission.]—It is reported that the Japanese advance posts have been driven back all along the line between the Hun river and Benschu.

GEN. STOESEL'S REPORT

Says Repulse of Japs Has Greatly Inspired the Garrison.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 5, 6:20 p. m.—Emperor Nicholas has at last received Gen. Stoessel's official report of the desperate four days' assault of the besiegers upon Port Arthur, from September 19 to September 23, from which it appears that the unofficial report from Gen. Cho was by no means exaggerated. The Japanese displayed frenzied bravery, but they lost ten thousand men, and their only success was the capture of two redoubts guarding the waterworks. They prepared for the assault by a general bombardment and then launched their attacks simultaneously from the north and west. Night and day they fought under a cover of continual bombardment. The Japanese defense was successful in reaching and occupying the Russian armored shelter trenches, from which they expected about the next day to storm the summit. During the night, Lieut. Pogorsky, of the navy, descended upon the trenches and blew them up with pyroxylin bombs, producing a panic among the besiegers, who fled, leaving the mountain side strewn with dead. The Japanese then abandoned further attempts, but after a day or two to recuperate, according to Gen. Stoessel's second dispatch, dated September 30, they resumed the bombardment of the city and outer works and began to construct zigzag approaches, evidently getting nearer from which to launch their next assault.

The loss of the waterworks is not considered vital, as there is a fresh water lake and numerous wells as well as a condensing apparatus within the defenses.

Gen. Stoessel recommends Gen. Konradenko, Lieut. Pogorsky, Col. Yman, the artillery and Capt. Rykachev, who led the Fifth Siberian regiment, for the St. George's Cross.

The complete character of the repulse of the Japanese has evidently greatly inspired the garrison of Port Arthur. Gen. Stoessel says the garrison of the Russian troops was beyond praise and adds that the garrison will hold out to the last drop of blood.

CHINESE MILITIA

Being Organized For Service In the Japanese Army.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 5, 8 a. m.—A special dispatch from Mukden, under date of October 4, says:

A regular recruiting service has been formed by the Japanese army, enlisted in this work by Lin See, a prince of the Chinese Imperial household. The men are paid by the Japanese, and are given a summary of the Japanese modern rifles. They use, instead, old muskets of enormous caliber.

The Russians have come in contact with them several times, and their bravery is incontestable. The Japanese are said to make use of secret of this organization, documentary proof of which is said to have been procured by the Russians in the shape of a letter addressed by the Japanese General, Vitche, to "The Chief of the Chinese Volunteer Militia."

RUSSIANS ARE FORTIFYING

At Yliu, Which May Be the Scene of the Next Big Fight.

Tokio, Oct. 5, 6 p. m.—It is evident that the country which is embraced by an irregular triangle, the apex of which is the port with the base running from Mukden to Fushan on the upper reaches of the Hun river, will soon be the theater of extended and extensive military operations.

The Russians apparently are using the Pass as their main base and are constructing a series of defenses to shield it from the south and east. Two roadways approach the Pass from the south. One of these roadways is the main highway from Mukden, and the other, which is smaller, starts at Fushan and winds through a hilly country. Nineteen miles north of Mukden is the town of Yliu, the southern and eastern approaches to which are sheltered by sharp ridges, offering a natural protection. It is reported here that the Russians are strongly intrenching in these ridges and are erecting semi-permanent fortifications. The Yliu river, which is shallow and fordable, runs through the town.

This defensive work of the Russians for the last four days of aggressive military critics at St. Petersburg, Oct. 5, 12:35 p. m.—The military critics at St. Petersburg have in the general uncertainty as to how to size up the situation at the front if Field Marshal Oyama makes his anticipated advance. They seem to agree that a strong screening movement is in progress immediately east of Liao Yang, that probably a feint will be made from the west, that the tactics of the Japanese at Liao Yang will be repeated and that Gen. Kuroki will try a wide flanking movement from the east.

Some of the critics point out that the conditions at Port Arthur make for a change of Oyama's plan of campaign. The continued failure of the attacks on the fortress and the enormous losses sustained by the besiegers, they think, may compel Oyama to dispatch some veteran troops from the Manchurian army to Gen. Nodan's support, as the re-enforcements arriving at Port Arthur are mostly reserve men. Unintended praise is bestowed on Lieut. Kuroki for the heroic defense of the fortress, which he has held out. In the meantime Gen. Kuroki is receiving reinforcements, especially artillery. Nevertheless all the experts express great doubt whether the Japanese defense conditions are unfavorable for defense.

KUROPATKIN WILL FIGHT

According To A Mukden Dispatch To A Berlin Newspaper.

Berlin, Oct. 5.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Mukden says: Gen. Kuropatkin has expressed a firm determination to avail himself of this favorable season of the year for military action. Everything points to a coming revenge for Liao Yang. He has hoped that the period of retreats is past and that they will be led against the enemy. The Japanese undoubtedly intended September 27 to attack in three columns from the collieries at Yental along the imperial railway, and Capt. Rykachev, who covered that the Russians fronting them numbered 60,000 men.

The correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger gives a summary of the offensive strength of the opposing Japanese army, which, according to his calculations, total 140,000 infantry, 6,000 cavalry and 648 guns.

LOREE'S EASTERN RECORD.

He First Came Into Fame During the Johnston Flood.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—L. F. Loree came into fame during the Johnston flood. He was then a division superintendent on the Pennsylvania Railroad, but came to Pittsburg to help out, and took charge of the reconstruction of bridges on the Pennsylvania road. He once swam a stream with a rope in his teeth to start a new bridge, and from this time he rose rapidly.

Cassatt did much to place Loree at the head of the Rock Island, of which H. C. Frick, of Pittsburg, is a stockholder. Frick is also the heaviest individual stockholder in the Pennsylvania road, and he did not like the showing made by Loree in the West. Cassatt expostulated and was by Frick to attend to his own business, and Loree was marked.

BIG TEAMS WIN BY LARGE SCORES

Harvard Scores An Easy Victory Over the Bowdoin Eleven.

CRIMSON'S DEFENSE IS WEAK.

Yale Downs Holy Cross, While Princeton Has No Trouble With Wesleyan.

COLUMBIA DOWNS TUFTS.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 5.—Harvard scored an easy victory over Bowdoin in the football game in Soldiers' Field this afternoon, winning by the score of 17 to 0. The Harvard offense proved to be effective, but the play on the whole was ragged. The most notable feature was the evenness of Harvard's second set of half-backs. Nichol, the regular left half-back, was given a rest, and Hanley took his place. Newish played in Hurley's regular position. Mills, who played full-back, also proved a tower of strength. The most discouraging feature of the game was the weakness of Harvard's defense at times.

Yale, who was the favorite, defeated Holy Cross, 14 to 0. Princeton, who was the favorite, defeated Wesleyan, 14 to 0. Columbia, who was the favorite, defeated Tufts, 14 to 0.

Harvard's defense was weak in the second half, but they were able to hold Bowdoin to a scoreless tie. The game was a tactical battle, with Harvard's offense proving to be the key to victory.

Yale's victory over Holy Cross was a decisive one, with the Crimson's offense proving to be the key to victory. Princeton's victory over Wesleyan was also a decisive one, with the Tigers' offense proving to be the key to victory.

Barbers Hear Address By Mrs. Fredricks—John Mitchell Unable To Come.

A stirring address by Mrs. T. H. Fredricks, President of the United Garment Workers, was the evening feature of yesterday's meeting of the Journeymen Barbers' Convention at Phoenix Hall, Mrs. Fredricks was introduced in the afternoon, and aroused enthusiasm during the course of her remarks. As she concluded the delegates gave her three resounding cheers.

The report of the secretary, W. E. Klapetzky, consumed practically all of the meeting yesterday. It covered the business of the organization for the past three years, and consequently was a lengthy document. Nearly eight hours were consumed in reading it to the delegates.

Speakers were introduced from time to time in order to vary the monotony of the proceedings, but the time devoted to these variations was kept at a minimum. The report of the secretary was the only one of the kind, and as the totals and important points at the reading were reached, Mr. Klapetzky was applauded.

It was hoped that John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, would be present during the convention, and it was rumored yesterday that he was in Louisville. Jacob Fischer, general organizer of the Barbers' union, said that he had tried to prevail upon Mr. Mitchell to visit Louisville this week, and arrange before the convention, but that it was impossible for Mr. Mitchell to appear because of business to this end.

There was no official meeting among the barbers last evening, except the sitting of the Executive Board, which passed on the usual number of minor grievances. There is no case so insignificant as to be beneath the notice of the Executive Board, which gives assistance and counsel to members of its union whenever asked.

To-day the Judiciary Committee will go into session, and it is expected that it will call for a revision of the constitution. No radical changes are likely to be made; only the numerous small ones that suggest themselves as conditions change.

CONVENTION OF KING'S DAUGHTERS IN NOVEMBER.

The various Circles of the King's Daughters in this city decided yesterday morning to hold the State convention from November 2 to 4 at the First Presbyterian church, Fourth avenue and York street. The names of the speakers and their subjects have not yet been decided, but it is assured that the most prominent women of the society will be here.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.
MONETARY.

Wednesday Evening, Oct. 5.—The banks had a light day, both as to calls and deposits. There is a fair demand for money, but it is nearly all for commercial purposes. Money is reasonably plentiful and willing bankers are not inclined to advance the rate. As a result, in some sections of the state they are withdrawing balances to meet the crop necessities, other sections are increasing their balances with the cities, and the net result is about the same. Money rates are easy and merchants have little extraordinary need of bank accommodation, as the fall trade in nearly all lines is reported to be in a favorable condition. This is especially true of the dry goods market. Loans are readily obtained at 5 per cent.

New York exchange still rules at 25c discount.

The report of the clearing house to-day was as follows:

Dealings in the local security market were confined principally to bonds and to a few stock issues, in which traction line, Louisville Traction common is in good demand and a sale of the preferred was made. The market for the preferred was practically unchanged from the market and offerings are quickly snapped up. Investors are still buying Rockwell Railway Light bonds.
